

Love Unbound

The love between family is unlike any other spoken.
It's unlike any expressed.
It's one that cannot be broken.
It's one that cannot be suppressed.

We hold that love in our hearts our whole lives.
Though we can't always stay together.
Our love still survives.
Our love still grows forever.

When the time comes that we must part, do not be discouraged.
Do not be afraid.
Our love remains undamaged.
Though we go our separate ways.

One in Heaven, others on earth.
It's ok to cry because they are no longer around.
The tears are a symbol of your love's worth.
The sign of a love unbound.

—Maysen Matthews